

Great Blue Heron

The Great Blue Heron is one of the tallest birds in Minnesota. It is about four feet tall and has long legs like stilts. The heron wades slowly or stands very still in shallow water. The heron waits for a fish, frog, or crayfish to swim near, and then catches it with its long bill.